Photo stories about common health care experiences

Health check ups and treatments can be scary or confusing if you don’t know what to expect. The Say Less, Show More health program made photo stories that explain common health care experiences.

The photo stories use pictures and simple language to show what it is like to:

- get a blood test
- go to the doctor or dentist
- get a CT scan, x-ray or ultrasound
- go to hospital
- have an operation.

There are different photo stories for children, men and women.

To help health professionals use the photo stories, there is an e-Learning package and other support materials.

We trust this resource

We trust this resource because it is:

- Made to help, not for profit
- Made by people who know a lot about the topic
- Made in Australia

We've checked this resource, and you can follow our guide to know if health information is true and right for you.

This resource was made by

Agency for Clinical Innovation NSW

The Agency for Clinical Innovation works with clinicians, consumers and system leaders to improve the health system in NSW. It designs and implements new ways to deliver care for patients.

- Visit