Sundara's story about getting good health care

Healthcare Story

My healthcare experience has been easy for me as a person living with a mild learning disability to access the medical system with having a GP who listen to my needs and is very caring as well. But I also think that the healthcare system should be better for people who live with a disability from a Culturally Linguistic Diverse (CALD) to be able to access healthcare system to attend appointments and accessing interpreting services within the hospital and medical systems.

Sundara is a man standing in a garden.

Who is it for?

People with intellectual disability,
Family and carers,
Professionals,
People from different cultures and backgrounds

What is it about?

Communication,
Ways to get better health care,
Health rights,
How professionals, family and carers can respect health rights

Who made it?

Sundara

When was it made?

It was shared here 3 months ago.

This story was made by

Sundara

Sundara is a member of the Our Health Space community from Victoria.